In Memoriam

In loving memory of my Father, Alonza Wheeler, who passed away 19 years ago, January 24, 1955. He had a word of kindness and a smile for everybody.
A helping hand to all he knew.
He was kind and loved by everyone on earth,
He only did his best,
Grant him Jesus heavenly rest.
Our hearts ache with sadness:
Our eyes shed many tears.
God knows how much we miss you.
At the end of 19 sad and lonely years.

No treasure on earth can replace you,
Your loss is too great to be told.
To me who loved and lost you.
Your memory will never grow old.

Sadly missed by your Daughter,Mrs.Alice Moore & Family 1-24-1t

Beef Producers To Convene February 7

Beef cattle producers, market operators and others interested in the beef industry of the Old Dominion will gather at the Homestead Hotel at Hot Springs on February 7, 8 and 9, for their annual convention.

The theme of this year's program is, "The Economic Environment in Which We Will Be Producing and Marketing Our Cattle." Several nationally prominent industry and university personalities will speak according to J. A. Smith, Extension Agent. Among them will be H. W. "Bud" Harrington, Grand Island, Nebraska, noted commercial cattle feeder. Harrington will keynote the three day meeting, speaking at the luncheon on Friday, February 8.

R. E. "Mick" Delaney, Seattle, Washington, will mix some seriousness in with the fun when he speaks on, "The Challenge of Change," Friday evening at the Awards Banquet.

"The program for the general session scheduled Saturday morning, February 9, combines talents from throughout the nation and Virginia according to Smith. Gerald Frankl, former vice president of Iowa Beef Processors, will discuss, "Trends & Developments in the Cattle Industry of The Midwest." The Dean of purebred Angus breeders, Mr. J. C. Holbert from Bettendorf, Iowa, will speak to the subject. "What Cattlemen Have Done for Themselves and What They Should Do." Curtis Mast, Extension Specialist, Animal Science Dept., VPI&SU, and a panel representing the beef industry of Virginia will provide the situation, trends and opportunities for Virginia cattlemen.

Several statewide beef industry groups have scheduled their annual meetings in conjunction with this year's convention reported Beggie B. Reynolds, Executive Secretary, Virginia Beef Cattle Association.

In addition to Reynolds' group, they include, the Virginia Beef Cattle Improvement Association, Virginia Hereford Association, Virginia Polled Hereford Association, Virginia Simmental Association and the Virginia Livestock Markets Association.

The Virginia Angus Association will hold an open board meeting during the convention.

All beef cattle producers and those connected with the industry are invited to attend this year's convention, said J. A. Smith.
